Similkameen Socreds Told No Commitments Made To Aid Hospital

TREACHEROUS CURVES fail to slow up speed hungry cyclists as they strain for that front position on the gruelling three day Vancouver to Penticton race that ended in this city last Sunday. Shown above are a few of the competitors negotiating a turn in close formation but some were not so fortunate. All along the route racers ran into trouble, shooting off into space on sharp turns or skittering wildly along the pavement after a tumble.

City Engineer Highly Honored

City engineer Paul G. W. Walker is the youngest chairman in the history of the Municipal Engineers' Division of the British Columbia Engineering Society. Only 34 years of age, Mr. Walker will be host to delegates from all over the province when they hold their 12th annual meeting in Penticton next year. Dates for the convention are September 16, 17 and 18.

Mr. Walker, who returned last week from the eleventh annual convention in Vancouver, was successful in having next year's gathering brought to Penticton.

Paul G. W. Walker, B.C. chairman and he was commended for his efforts at city council meeting Monday night. Council also congratulated him upon his appointment. About 250 delegates, their wives and representatives of the supply and equipment section are expected to attend. And although it has not yet been decided where the main business sessions will be held, all available space at the Hotel Prince Charles has already been booked.

The annual meeting enables engineers to gather technical information and compare notes on points of engineering interest.

New York Yankees stamped the Brooklyn Dodgers with a 9-5 defeat this afternoon in the first game of the World Series.

The provincial government has not made any promises in regard to financial assistance for Penticton's new hospital and Frank Richter, M.L.A., apparently, does not see its request for financial aid in the face of a mounting operating deficit.

The foregoing information was imparted to delegates to the Similkameen Social Credit league's annual convention, held in the Hotel Prince Charles last Thursday, and both statements represented a flat contradiction of two stories carried in The Herald, one in the issue of September 9, the other the following week, September 16.

NO COMMITMENTS
Syd. A. Hodge, retiring president, reported to the Similkameen Social Crediters, that in telephone conversation with Mr. Richter, he was told that the government had made no commitments to the Penticton hospital board. This was in contradiction to a statement issued by hospital board chairman, J. T. Young. The hospital board, which will be faced with an estimated deficit of over $34,000 on operations at the end of the year, sought to secure some adjustment with the department of health and welfare in regard to an increase of the low per diem rate. No satisfaction was given by the department and in a last ditch effort the board declared it would resign unless some adjustment, or promise of adjustment was made by the government.

A few hours before the deadline, the chairman of the hospital board received a telegram from Victoria. A full meeting of the board was held and Mr. Young issued the following statement to The Herald.

"It is with satisfaction that the Penticton hospital board has received sufficient assurance of financial cooperation from the department of health and welfare to enable its members to carry on the work to which they were elected."

According to Mr. Hodge, at Thursday night's Social Credit meeting, the government is not committed to anything.

The Herald wired the Hon. Eric Martin, minister of health and welfare, previous to the date when the board's resignation was to take effect, asking for a statement on the government's stand on the matter, but received no reply. A further wire was sent to Mr. Richter and a reply was received telling The Herald to get details of the board's reversal of its decision to step down from the board.

Discussion on the hospital was quickly smothered by the delegates, delegate A. Miller pointing out that the matter was being dealt with by the government and "that we might be sticking our necks out," and he suggested that the matter "is best left alone."

DAVING STATEMENT
Previously T. E. Swann got to his feet to discuss "this hospital proposition. There was a write up in The Herald that the hospital board was going to resign en masse. The write up in the paper said that Richter had insisted the hospital and promised to do everything he could," Mr. Swann declared.

"I read that article and phoned Mr. Richter at Keremeos. Some or 15.

Hazard On Eckhardt

To Eliminate Sharp Curve

Purchase of a triangle of land to eliminate the traffic hazard created by the sharp bend in Eckhardt avenue, just west of Winnipeg street, was authorized by City Council on Monday, following a sharp clash of opinion with Alderman J. G. Harris in lone opposition to his colleagues.

The property will be purchased from C. E. Brett, who offered the land to the city at what was termed a reasonable price. Alderman Harris, who had been given power to investigate and act upon Mr. Brett's offer, opened the subject by asking to be relieved. "I can't recommend any action at this time," Alderman W. D. Haddleton said he thought it was a fair offer and that he hated to see it dropped.

Council lined up against Alderman Harris and voted purchase of land at a cost not to exceed $500.

No Sign Of Break In Sawmill Strike Now In Third Week

"The situation has not changed," said William Fairley, spokesman for Penticton Sawmills Ltd., in reference to the wildcat walk-out at the mill, now going into its third week.

The same report comes from the Yellow Lake Sawmill where four men left their jobs in an unauthorized walkout. Other workers at Yellow Lake are at present employed in the planing mill of the company.

Those on strike are IWA unionists.

City Council, Monday, authorized calling of tenders for addition to the city hall. Tenders must be submitted by October 10.

Penticton firefighters were called out three times during Monday morning's high wind, when chimney's caught fire. Otherwise, the week was quiet.

Hospital Board Wasn't Bluffing Says Chairman

Hospital Board chairman J. T. Young wants local Social Crediters to keep out of negotiations between the provincial government and the Penticton hospital board.

Informed of the statements made at the Similkameen Social Crediters annual convention here last Thursday, that the government had made no commitments to the board and that Frank Richter, M.L.A., had denied a story in the Penticton Herald to the effect that he stood with the board in its request for financial assistance to meet operating costs, Mr. Young issued the following strongly worded statement.

The Penticton hospital board's negotiations with the department of health and welfare and the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service was brought to a satisfactory conclusion that gave us sufficient financial assurance to enable the board to remain in office. We wish to assure the citizens of Penticton and districts that their hospital board was not bluffing when stating its intention of resigning and that the assurance from the government would therefore have to be of sufficient magnitude to warrant our decision.

We conducted our negotiations with the provincial government and not with the local Social Credit organization. We did not feel that it was our job to approach this group for approval or disapproval of our action and will not consider it necessary in the future.

In conclusion, the affairs of the hospital are a matter between the hospital board and the government and so long as this board is in office it will conduct its business on that basis. I am glad to be given to understand that there were some of the delegates at the Social Credit meeting who, apparently realized this.

John T. Young, chairman, Penticton Hospital Board.

Support Given Home For Aged

Proposed plan to convert the old Penticton hospital into a home for senior citizens received solid support at the Similkameen Social Credit convention in Penticton, held last Thursday.

T. E. Swann, of Penticton, said it was a "good move". Also supporting the motion was J. W. "Billy" Johnson, of Penticton, who thought the provincial government should be interested in the idea. Mr. Johnson said: "These people are chronic cases, and the government can't keep them in hospital forever at $12 a day. They would save money, and there is full justification for backing this resolution."

Mr. Johnson was reminded that the resolution referred only to senior citizens, but that no doubt many hospitalized "chronic" cases would qualify for a home to take care of aged citizens.

The resolution itself supported the plan and called for a petition to the Department of Health and Welfare, so that necessary funds would be granted to carry out the conversion.

NOT INTERESTED
The city is not interested in the proposal to utilize the old hospital as a hostel, Alderman E. A. Titchmarsh said in council Monday. The proposal originated with a packing house, seeking quarters for its workers.

Penticton firefighters were called out three times during Monday morning's high wind, when chimney's caught fire. Otherwise, the week was quiet.

SOCREDS BACK LOWER LAND TAX MOTION

Perennial gripe of agriculturalists, the amount of assessment on farm land within organized territory, received the attention of Similkameen Socreds at their annual convention here last Thursday.

The delegates gave their support to a resolution calling for a government inquiry into the matter of agricultural land taxation with a view to amending the municipal act, and granting of low fixed assessments to land of one acre or more used solely for fruit growing or market garden purposes.

Speaking to the motion, J. W. Johnson, said the problem was not peculiar to Penticton, but refers to all agricultural land.

They fought a good fight did Aldermen F. G. Christian and W. D. Haddleton in council meeting Monday, but the odds were four to two against, and in a battle of ballots, Alderman Christian's bulk didn't count for any more than the shake of Alderman E. A. Titchmarsh's bony finger, wagged against the motion.

Penticton, city of beaches and peaches, was to become also a city of curbs and gutters under the policy proposed by Messrs. Christian and Haddleton, but the remainder of council toyed fondly with the idea of a city of sidewalks, the curbs and gutters to follow in the as yet unforeseeable time — when money would be available for such things.

SKIRMISH
Sketches to the decisive engagement, on Monday, were fought out the week before and resulted in a stalemate, with Alderman Haddleton agreeing to the policy suggestion being tabled for one week, provided a decision would be reached — it was — an emphatic "no" to the proposal of the board of works committee's recommendation that "whenever considered desirable by council, curbs or gutters be installed by the city and 100 percent of the cost be borne by the city."

Furthermore, that sidewalks alone be paid for, 80 percent by the property owners and 20 percent by the city.

The committee contended that "this policy would enable the city to undertake properly finished curb and gutter work on both sides of any street without getting into difficulties with regard to owners declining local improvements on one side of a street."

Alderman Haddleton reiterated his arguments of last week that curbs and gutters on both sides would be a step towards finished streets.

This policy would, it was stressed by Alderman Christian, apply only to the downtown area. (Continued on Page 5)

Strong Words At Socred Meet

MLA Will Not Resign Seat

Frank Richter, M.L.A. for the Similkameen, will not step down "anytime, for anyone," Syd Hodge, past president of the Similkameen Social Credit League, informed delegates to the second annual convention of the group, held in the Hotel Prince Charles last Thursday.

Mr. Hodge made the foregoing statement during the course of his annual report. He commented on the fact that the first Social Credit MLA elected in the Similkameen, Harry Francis, had decided it was in the best interests of the organization to resign in favor of the Hon. Einar M. Gunderson, who won the seat in a by-election and was able to take his place in the house.

The finance minister subsequently failed to win for Social Credit in the provincial election in Oak Bay and it is understood that Premier W. A. C. Bennett is seeking seats for both Mr. Gunderson and the Hon. Mrs. Tilly Rolston, minister of education, who was also defeated in the June provincial election.

But, according to Mr. Hodge, the Similkameen will not again be the cockpit for a by-election. Mr. Richter, assured me that he "would not step down at any time for anyone," Mr. Hodge told the meeting, "and if any pressure is brought to bear to secure his resignation I, for one, will be fighting it. I do not think it is right that any person, repudiated by their own constituency should step in elsewhere," Mr. Hodge told the Social Credit delegates, and he added "a few people played politics with the constituency. Two of them are not representing any constituency now."

The retiring president expressed appreciation of the co-operation he had received from the executive during his term of office, but stated bluntly that this did not extend to all the rank and file. "There were about five percent who were very vigorous in trying to undermine anything the executive was trying to do."

STRONG WINDS HIT PENTICTON SOME DAMAGE

A wind-driven storm lashed Penticton Sunday night and Monday morning, disrupted power service in some sections of the city for hours, including the hospital, smashed boats at Skaha Lake and did some damage to fruit. Many trees throughout the city were uprooted.

Peak velocity of the wind is not known because the power outage also affected Penticton airport where readings are taken.

Almost seven hours elapsed before power was completely restored in the east end Monday and there was also a lengthy failure at Skaha Lake. R. P. Coe, electrical foreman, said there were ten cases where wires shorted and fell. He said the wind had the effect of tossing the wires in an upward motion, and as they fell, they shorted and burned. In the city's east end, the resultant overload was responsible for the lengthy delay, until another circuit could be cut in.

There are reports of fruit damage, mostly in the Skaha Lake area, although a survey by field men of the district horticultural office shows the overall picture as good.

At Penticton hospital the elevators stalled, cooking facilities were disrupted and there was no power for the X-ray machines, although the emergency equipment gave the necessary lighting in important departments of the hospital.

At least two boats were damaged at Skaha Lake as the wind howled in over the area and drove them up against pilings. Many trees were uprooted in the vicinity of Skaha Lake park and in other sections of the city.

A huge elm tree narrowly missed the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Barr, as it crashed into the conservatory just behind the house.

Vince Duggan Joins Herald

Vince Duggan, for the past five years one of Penticton's best known and most popular newsmen, has this week joined the news staff of The Herald.

Mr. Duggan came here in 1948 as one of the originals on the city's newly organized radio station, CKOK, and, as an assistant manager, he played a significant role in the development of the new medium. His specialty, as it had been in previous radio experience, was in news management and broadcasting, and he soon became widely and favorably known throughout the southern interior.

It was in 1937 that Mr. Duggan, Alberta-born, started his radio experience with CFRN at Edmonton. Four years later he left CFRN, where he was chief announcer, to join CJOB at Vancouver. From 1942 until 1946 his service with the air force interrupted his work at CJOB, but he returned there after the war, and it was from there that he came to Penticton in 1948.

"It just isn't possible to like any place more than Penticton," he emphasizes, and his wife and two children share this feeling with him.

ABOLISH 3% TAX ON STUDENTS' CLOTHING

The three percent sales tax on students' clothing should be lifted. This is the opinion expressed in resolution at the annual meeting of the Similkameen Social Credit league last Thursday.

The resolution, originating in Hedley, has been forwarded to the government asking them to abolish the tax on clothing not only for the public school age groups but also the high school.

Thieves Busy, But Linger To Drink Pints Of Cream

Thieves broke into two business establishments Monday night, and escaped, with over $36 in cash. At Grove Motors, they forced two cash drawers in the main office and took $32.56. At Valley Dairy the prowler was apparently thirsty. In addition to taking $3.75 from a driver's apron, two pints of cream were consumed. The cash drawers had been forced open but they contained no cash. RCMP are investigating.

LECTURER TELLS CANADIAN CLUB BRITAIN STRONGER THAN EVER

Upon the framework of four points, Donald Grant, professional lecturer on international affairs, presented to the Penticton Canadian Club his interpretation of present-day world conditions and gave a calculated prediction for the years ahead here last week.

These four points, the shift of the centre of world power from London, England, to Washington, D.C. — the emergence of the United States as the leading world power, with Moscow as alternative world centre — the rejection by the Asian peoples of imperialism — the new strength of Britain today, served to illustrate to the audience the momentous social movement for re-evaluation of the individual which is girdling the globe today.

Speaking under the banner "Cold War or Cold Peace," Mr. Grant's informative address launched the Canadian Club into its fall term.

It is Mr. Grant's opinion that the majority of people are so influenced by the enormous power of the United States and the incalculable strength of Soviet Russia that they can see little else. "In becoming adjusted to the cold war," he said, "many have overlooked the fact that a number of important changes have taken place."

"The first phase of world change dealt with by Mr. Grant is the transfer of the role of leading world power from historic old London to the bustling metropolis of Washington, D.C. Today, he declared, it is the United States that is most influential in the troubled spots of the world where Britain previously held this position. Now, it is the dynamic power of the United States, with all her wealth, which is able to challenge any force on earth, said the speaker.

"But the growth of power in America is no indication of any lessening of strength in Britain and the opinion shared by many Americans that Britain has failed to recover from the setbacks of recent years is not accurate," stated Mr. Grant.

"Britain is stronger today than Britain has ever been," he declared. "Britons are enjoying the highest standard of living in their history."

He said that Britain, mature and respected, has grown out of the mere use of power and today she considers "the moral things more influential." For this reason, Mr. Grant said, Britain has not resorted to force of arms in such restless areas as Iran, the Gold Coast, Egypt, India and other parts of the world, previous to her influence, where the masses have striven to shake off the "tutelage" of imperialistic impact.

"The British Commonwealth today is alive, expanding, changing form — a Commonwealth of free and growing nations," declared Mr. Grant. He asked the audience to observe the "growth out of Empire," which has taken place over the brief span of recent years, as a sign of strength and pointed out that it is the only Empire that has voluntarily relinquished power as the people

Accident Victim Succumbs Here

No date has been set for a coroner's inquiry into the death of Leonard Koleada, 1055 Kilwinning street, who died Monday in Penticton hospital as a result of a motorcycle accident. He was 21 years of age.

Few details of the accident are known. The young man, an employee of the CPR, was on his way back to work on September 13 when the accident occurred near Keremeos. He was found along the road by an unidentified Keremeos girl and taken to Penticton hospital, where he remained unconscious until his death.

Trouble Ahead?

It is not true that, because of a change in provincial government alignments, a change in marketing legislation will arise.

Premier Bennett represents a riding that is in the very heart of the fruit growing area. Our own member, Mr. Richter, is chairman of the agriculture committee. And it can be assumed that there are enough representatives in Social Credit ranks to continue support for those principles and techniques of marketing control that, in the Herald's opinion, have brought inestimable advantages to the primary producers of the province.

But it should be remembered that any change-over in political controls always brings with it a resurgence of appeals and plans to overthrow or amend policies that have apparently become fixed. Such, indeed, is one of the advantages in change in authority, for it facilitates the shaking up routine. It can be a good thing. It can also be an exceedingly dangerous thing. It will surely exist in the period that now lies ahead.

Producers have for so long a time been aided by marketing legislation—indeed there are now quite a large number of orchardists here in the interior who have never operated without the benefit of control—that they themselves tend to forget or at least minimize the fact that there is a great body of opposition to the whole idea of control. Only those growers who fought through the days when their cry was "a cent a pound or on the ground", who struggled against entrenched self-interests, and who saw the whole sorry spectacle of chaotic selling turn their receipts into "red ink"—only these are still on their guard against interests which would, if they could, dismantle the whole machinery that now operates in the grower's cause.

There never was a time when the legislature of the province was not really a target of appeal for those opposed to marketing control. The efforts rose and subsided. Lately they all but died out. For it seemed to be a settled and fixed thing, that the government would uphold the control. But that there will be a renewed testing of this situation can now be taken for granted. There are altogether too many who will think, rightly or wrongly, that they can perhaps secure new and more attentive ears with a new authority in Victoria.

Under the circumstances, it would seem the part of wisdom for all those who have the real welfare of the producer at heart, and who are mindful of the true value of marketing control as it now exists, to direct their efforts towards a unified and whole-hearted rallying to the defence of what they now have and what they could lose altogether easily, if they but knew it. They should strengthen the government to stand behind the producer.

This does not mean that there should be a sort of slavish endorsement of anything and everything affecting the marketing act and its operations. But the place for discussion and the method of working towards amendment should be within the machinery already so ably provided—the BCFGA—one of the most democratically constituted organizations on behalf of the primary producer that has yet been devised on this continent.

Here in this city last week, at the annual session of the Social Credit organization in the Similkameen, a resolution was put forward for the deliberation of the delegates affecting marketing. The proposal involved some sweeping suggestions and we are rather gratified to note that the delegates took no immediate action. This happening need not be over-emphasized. And yet it has a certain significance. It needs to be watched.

For marketing legislation to become a political football amid various political groups would, we think, be an extremely incautious development.

The outcome of disorganized and often ill-informed pushing and pulling in such kind of debate would only be to strengthen the hand of anybody and everybody whose aim is not the amendment or improvement of marketing legislation, but its virtual removal.

Haste Could Mean Waste

Next year's council, we gather from our news columns, is going to be asked to consider some major new road construction proposals. These have been endorsed by the town planning commission and, with qualifications, by the 1953 council.

The town planners, we understand further, feel that the need for a new cut-off from Main street through Fairview road, and for a new so-called Riverside drive on the west boundary of the city is so acute, that work should be proceeded with soon.

That there would be value in both these undertakings—and a score of others that the Herald might enumerate—need not be stressed. But it is all a question of relative value and necessity.

The taxpayers of this community, we suggest, will need the complete assurance and obvious proof that these and similar developments cannot be averted or delayed, before they look with favor on any such eye. They will cast a very jaundiced eye on any program that press in to take precedence over the crying need for improvement of streets that have already been operating, some of them for a whole generation.

The mountain of already existing needs, it often appears, grows bigger month by month.

It is for council, and the whole community, to go on "iron rations" in respect to a great many things, unless and until they have gone a very long way in solving the demands that are everywhere.

There is one other point to be remembered in respect to new streets and diversions.

We appear to be in a process of re-making our entire geography, so far as routed traffic is concerned. The end is by no means in sight. Various reports are being compiled, various experts are having their say. Meanwhile we are being twisted into all sorts of new forms and shapes.

Would it not be wise to hasten slowly in the matter of laying out and paying for new routes within our borders? It could be that only a few months' time might demonstrate that still some other pattern would be the better one. Or indeed that some other added cost would then be imperative.

This cautious policy, it seems to us, is particularly justified in a time when every dollar, and every cent, that can possibly be saved for general public works needs in the city, must indeed be saved.

Time was when such native horrors as Ogopogo and Cadborosaurus reigned with quiet dignity, occasionally lifting a fearsome head or lashing a scaly tail for the benefit of nearby residents and visiting tourists.

But an appearance by Ogopogo in his native Okanagan haunts or by Caddy in his Vancouver Island playground barely rates a second glance today. Their thunder has been stolen by new freaks.

Fishermen off both our coasts are showing up with elephant-skinned sunfish and unappetizing mudsharks, said to be visitors from southern waters. Even the little Nith River of New Hamburg, Ont., is getting into the act with a local monstrosity, said to dine on rat tails and portions of human swimmers and tentatively identified as an escaped baby alligator that grew up.

Apart from their alien status, all these newcomers are guilty of violating the basic regulations of the monsters union. No self-respecting Canadian monster would ever assault a swimmer for fear of frightening away the tourist trade. It was only a couple of years ago that the Kelowna Board of Trade endeavored to deprive Ogopogo of his natural ferociousness and remake him into a tame lambkin. And—above all—no authentic monster ever allows itself to be caught, or even scientifically identified.

But Canada's position should be made clear. Visiting monsters who do not know how to play cricket and have no satisfactory credentials should be stopped at the border.

Crop Year Reviewed

CONFIDENCE MOTION SUPPORTED BY SOUTHERN DISTRICT COUNCIL

Full confidence in B.C. Tree Fruits Limited and the board of governors was expressed at a meeting of the Southern District Council of the BCFGA held at the Hotel Prince Charles, Saturday afternoon. Reports to the growers were given by BCFGA president A. H. Garrish, Oliver, and member of the board of governors, Albert Millar, also of Oliver.

The resolution, expressing faith in officials who handle selling of the fruit crop, had previously been endorsed by the Northern District Council of the BCFGA and was sent here for consideration by southern growers. Adoption of the resolution was moved by Douglas Fraser, Osoyoos, and passed without a dissenting vote.

The resolution read: "That, whereas, from certain sections of the Okanagan there has been severe criticism of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., and whereas a study of final returns for the 1952 crop shows that prices were very satisfactory, with the exception of soft fruit, the low returns on which were due to circumstances beyond the control of the B.C. Tree Fruits Limited.

"Therefore, be it resolved that this Northern District Council commend B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., and the Board of Governors, for their efforts in selling the 1952 crop and express confidence in their ability to handle future crops in such a manner as to obtain maximum returns to the grower body as a whole."

WAGE AGREEMENT

Mr. Garrish, in his report, reviewed activities of the central executive over the past few weeks. He said they had worked harmoniously with packinghouses in arriving at a new wage agreement with workers. Said Mr. Garrish, "the shipper's federation made it clear that they looked to the BCFGA to take the lead, because we represent the growers who pay the shot."

Mr. Garrish also said agreement had been reached with the motor vehicles branch regarding licensing of cars used by transient help, and the licensing of orchard tractors using the highways, but on a non-commercial basis. He said that persons from other provinces who come here and take employment, even part time, were not strictly tourists and were subject to taking out a British Columbia license. "We were fortunate," he said, "in getting approval from the motor vehicle branch to use special stickers for these transient workers' cars."

In the case of tractors used on a commercial basis a license fee of five dollars was assessed. But there were instances where a number of growers owned a spraying machine or other equipment jointly, and used the highway to haul this equipment from one orchard to another. The licensing act, however, raised the question of a need for a license in cases where a farmer was using the highway to run his tractor from one farm to another, although in some cases special permits could be obtained. "After taking the question up with authorities, special permits were granted for three months at a time," he informed the district council.

CONVENTION

"Arrangements for our next annual convention in Penticton are going ahead," said the BCFGA president, "and more information will be coming up in subsequent months."

Mr. Garrish also said circulars would be sent out dealing with a plan which would take all convention delegates to Kelowna for a tour of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., and B.C. Fruit Processors plant. "Some delegates may not have visited our main operation in Kelowna and we feel such a tour would be beneficial," he explained. Tentative time for the tour is November, with two groups of about twelve each making the trip daily for three days. Mr. Garrish said the central office of BCFGA would absorb half the mileage cost of the trip.

CULL APPLES

Answering a request from growers, Mr. Garrish outlined the new policy of handling cull apple payments. Severe case of apple scab, the north end of the Okanagan and in the Kootenays brought about the change, which is subject to yearly review.

The scab incidence has been so bad, that ordinarily, many orchardists would not even have picked their apples, and a separate cull pool was set up with money received from the culls going directly to the grower. Previously, processors paid proceeds from the cull pool to B.C. Tree Fruits and the money was spread throughout the general apple pool. Apple culls are used to make juices, dehydrated apples and associated apple products.

If some method had not been evolved to compensate the grower for these cull apples, processors would have been left without enough culls for their needs, and that is why the change was made this year.

It was also pointed out that in the northern sections of the Okanagan where scab damage was very serious, and it was doubtful if many apples would be picked, the packinghouses had co-operated by keeping handling charges at or below cost.

REVIEWS CROP YEAR

Before commencing his review of the crop year, Mr. Millar said that J. B. Lander of B.C. Tree Fruits, who was to have given an address on the soft fruit situation, would be unable to attend because of pressure of other business.

The cherry crop this year had been good, said Mr. Millar, with quality generally better. This was especially true of number 3's, and the shippers' job of handling and packing. The same was true of apricots. Mr. Millar lauded the soft fruits maturity committee. "Improvements in grading were due in good part to the efforts of this committee. And although this was the first season, exploratory in many ways, it has been highly valuable and they should be complimented and highly commended. The shippers also co-operated to the best of their ability," he said.

HIGHLIGHTS

Here are other highlights of Mr. Millar's review of the year's soft fruit crop:

Apples—We gained lost ground in this market and the shortness of the crop was the only dark spot.

Peaches—Early and mid-season harvest satisfactory. Quality and size good with practically no bruising. The Elbertas were good but they were in the picture changed. They deteriorated considerably, in which was apparently due in part to heavy rains and cool weather. Elbertas shipped to Winnipeg and United States markets arrived at their destination with 50 percent excessive bruises.

Bartlett pears—Condition of these pears good with prices better this year. The U.S. market on pears is weakening.

Flemish pears—It is hoped that about 50 percent of the year's crop can be sold in the United States.

Prunes—Tremendous trouble with the incidence of the high incidence of shrivelling. The subject of high claims against prunes was then discussed, and Gordon Wight, Oliver, also of the board of governors, said a clear picture of high claims against prunes had not been presented, and it may not be as black as painted. Many orchardists had resorted to sorting prunes in their orchards, in order to dispose of the shrivelled ones.

Mr. Millar's figures on sales to date are as follows:

Bartlett pears—308,891 boxes of fresh fruit. Cannery sales this year 2175 tons (compared to 1077 tons in 1952).

Flemish pears—37,031 boxes of fresh fruit and 210 tons cannery sales. Peaches to September 25—956,095 cases to fresh fruit.

Prunes—333,207 to fresh fruit.

KAMLOOPS TO HOST LIONS IN OCTOBER GRIDIRON OPENER

In a telegram sent to the executive of the Kamloops football club several days ago, Annis Stukus said the B.C. Lions Canadian football team will go to Kamloops for an exhibition game in the first week of October.

This announcement, which appeared in the Kamloops press, speaks well of the rapid organization of gridiron promoters in the northern city. Although the formation of a club has been mooted for some time, it is just within the past few weeks that any concrete steps have been taken. The Kamloops gridriders appear to have overcome the problem of equipment - always a heavy expenditure in this sport - and will have the use of Riverside Park in Kamloops.

An exact date for their opening match has not been set but they hope to place it around the fourth of October, Sunday.

Kamloops gridriders hope to have been practising regularly with about 20 players out to each session. They are rapidly rounding into shape and hope to have football strip by next week.

Sidewalks

Acting Mayor Wilson Hunt promptly questioned the wisdom of such a policy. "It would be wiser to give the taxpayers concrete sidewalks the curbs and gutters to come later. Personally I am in favor of building as much sidewalk as possible now," he said.

Alderman Christian argued from a construction point of view insisting that curbs at least should go with sidewalks.

The reiteration that this would be for the downtown area, which Alderman Christian wants to see fixed up. "It's a disgrace," brought attack from Alderman Titchmarsh. "This is an entirely new policy - a serious matter - creating two types of citizens. Provision of curbs and gutters also means an automatic increase in property assessment."

"Then there is this initiative plan. Council is to say where the work will be done. It's my experience that when citizens ask for something they are willing to help to pay for it and you have satisfied people, but when something is dictated you have a group of disgruntled citizens."

SAME COST
Alderman Haddleton pointed out that the overall cost of curbs and gutters to property owners would be about 50 percent, the same as it is now for sidewalks alone under the local improvement plan. As for the increase in assessments, mentioned by Alderman Titchmarsh, Alderman Haddleton countered that property values would also be increased.

"It isn't dictatorship," protested Alderman Haddleton. "Delegations would still be able to approach council if they didn't want the work done and if the majority of the property owners in the particular block or street were against it, they could turn it down."

SIDEWALKS FIRST
Alderman H. M. Geddes lined up against the proposed policy. "I can't help but feel we need sidewalks. A lot of sidewalk on one or both sides of the streets is better than a few blocks with curbs and gutters."

Financial considerations were evidently in the minds of some aldermen and this caused Alderman Christian to comment, "the big weakness of civic administrations is that many things are done cheap or the basis of economy, but there's no gainsaying that old saying 'the best is none too good'."

More sidewalks without curbs and gutters won the day. The vote was 32 with Alderman Titchmarsh, Geddes and J. G. Harris voting against Alderman Christian and Haddleton.

"I think his worship should vote on this. It's an important matter," said Alderman Haddleton, "his opinion should be recorded."

"I would vote against it, Alderman Haddleton," Acting Mayor Hunt said with dignity, and there the matter ended.

Even the smallest cuts or scratches may become infected unless given attention promptly. Any wound, no matter how small, should be cleansed and a dressing applied.

HARRY F. SMITH

Meeting with members of the Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce throughout the Okanagan today is Harry Smith, national president of the Jaycees. Mr. Smith arrived in Penticton this morning, and will address a dinner meeting in Oliver tonight. Earlier, he attended a luncheon meeting in Kelowna. The new national president was elected to this office at the recent Jaycee National Convention at Muskoka, Ontario. He was elected vice-president in 1952 following several years' activity in the Junior Chamber movement. He joined the Toronto Junior Board of Trade in 1938, but intervention of the war prevented further participation until 1946. For the next two years, he was active on a number of committees, and in 1948 became treasurer. After a period as an executive in the Toronto chapter, he took over as chairman in the 1951-52 season.

other Social Credit had already read the article to Mr. Richter over the telephone and Mr. Richter assured me that he had never made any such statement.

"Somebody is trying to hand us a line and I want to know who it is," Mr. Swann said.

The Herald in the September 9th issue, reported that Mr. Richter was going to take up the hospital matter at Victoria in an effort to get financial assistance.

Mr. Richter, the story read, informed The Herald that he had made a study of the hospital situation and believes the board is right in its contention that the per diem rate is too low for the hospital which was designed to provide better facilities for care of patients than existed in the old hospital. "It doesn't seem possible to increase facilities for care of patients and not increase costs," Mr. Richter contends.

"It is my intention to take up the matter on behalf of the hospital immediately upon arriving in Victoria. This is a matter which concerns not only Penticton."

A duplicate of this story was sent to Mr. Richter at Victoria, where he is attending the legislative session, along with a clipping of the story disputed by Mr. Swann, and Mr. Richter was requested to wire a statement.

The letter was mailed to Mr. Richter last Friday, but at press time today he had not replied.

access to the auto courts should be provided if possible. He suggested as a possible solution the prohibiting of Lakeshore drive to commercial traffic of more than one ton.

It was pointed out that it is unlikely that this year's council will be able to take any action and the Acting Mayor said he was satisfied that any council would give the matter careful consideration.

Alderman Haddleton then suggested that next year's council be asked to give consideration to permitting parking on both sides of Lakeshore drive during the summer months, in view of the fact that Lakeshore drive is no longer a provincial highway.

This brought a question from Alderman J. G. Harris, who asked "does not the traffic by-law prohibit parking on the travelled portion of the highway?"

This had the traffic committee baffled and Alderman Harris was promised that his point would be looked into.

Principals From Summerland Wed In Church Manse

SUMMERLAND — A wedding of considerable interest took place quietly at the United Church manse, Penticton, at five o'clock on Friday afternoon, when Anne Rae, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Armour was united in marriage with Montgomery Arthur, younger son of Mrs. Beggs, and the late Mr. S. Beggs. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ernest Rands, minister of the church.

For her wedding the dark-haired bride wore a pink gabardine suit, with fitted jacket and slim skirt, a white feathered hat, frilly white blouse, and navy accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations centred with an orchid.

The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. James Shaw, Penticton. Mrs. Shaw was becomingly attired in a beige tulle with mauve accessories and mauve corsage.

A wedding breakfast followed at the Hotel Prince Charles.

For motoring to Spokane and in Washington, the bride donned a navy suit, with red accessories and matching blue topcoat with orchid corsage. On their return the couple will reside in Summerland.

The bride has been a popular member of the staff of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, and the groom is an orchardist.

Church Woman From Toronto Travelling With Exposition Addresses U.C. MeetingSick Children's Hospital Guild Proposed Here

In view of the fact that sick and crippled children in every district of British Columbia are treated at Children's Hospital, Vancouver, there is a great need of a central group such as a Women's Guild in various towns to interpret services available and to note youngsters whose parents should hear of this service.

The need is especially vital in centres that are visited by the travelling clinic. Penticton is one of these and in response to an appeal from the Children's Hospital and the realization of the necessity of some type of organization to work with the central group a number of local women are holding an organizational meeting in this city next week.

Heeded by Mrs. A. Earl Wells, who has had considerable correspondence in respect to forming a Guild to the Children's Hospital, the women will gather in the Red Cross Centre on Tuesday, October 6, at 8 p.m. to formulate plans for the proposed organization.

Mrs. Wells is issuing an urgent appeal to all interested in the sick and crippled children in this district to attend the forthcoming meeting. More than three hundred children of the Okanagan district are currently receiving care from the hospital.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McQuistin, was given in marriage by her father to the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lange, of Oliver. She was attired in an off-navy blue suit, matching color hat and beige accessories. Her corsage was styled of red rose buds.

Mrs. Ernest Cox, her sister's only attendant, wore a wine colored suit with black accessories and white corsage for the wedding. Jack Burquist, of Oliver, was bestman.

Following a reception held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest (Curley) Cox, of this city, the newly married couple left for a honeymoon trip to Terrace; the bride donned a beige colored topcoat over her wedding suit for travelling.

Report On Convention At Local WCTU Meeting

An interesting report on the World's Convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union recently held in Vancouver was presented by Mrs. Mildred Jones at the regular monthly meeting of the local WCTU held last Tuesday in the United Church Hall.

Also of particular interest at the meeting here was the address by guest speaker, Mrs. E. J. Spence, who is leading the devotional period of the afternoon, used as her theme "The Shepherd's Psalm".

Following the adjournment of the session, conducted by the president, Mrs. Jones, refreshments were served to bring the afternoon to a close.

St. Andrew's Scene Of Nicol-Olson Autumn Nuptials

Baskets of autumn blooms decorated the altar of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church for the ceremony on Saturday at 7 p.m. in which Audrey Elizabeth Olson, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Olson of this city, became the bride of Floyd Kenneth Alexander Nicol, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Nicol, also of Penticton. Rev. Samuel McGladery, B.A., B.D., was officiating clergyman.

The bride, given in marriage by Howard Welock, was charming in a traditional white frock of Chantilly lace and nylon net over satin styled with redingote, featuring an Elizabethan collar and sleeves in lily point. A hair bandeau of orange blossoms clasped her finger tip illusion veil and complementing her attire were the groom's gift, a pearl necklace, and her bouquet of pink roses and white baby mums.

Green nylon net and lace were shined into the gown chosen by Miss Inez Munro, the bride's only attendant. She wore a hair circlet of pink carnations to match her shower bouquet.

Albert Bishop was bestman for the groom and ushering were his brother, Harold Nicol, and Tommy O'Connell.

At the reception held on board the SS Scamou to the toast of the bride was proposed by L. R. Gilles. Serviteurs were the Misses Marie Ishikawa, Carroll Dumont, Eva Selby and Mary Webster.

The newly married couple left for a honeymoon trip to Vancouver and Britannia Beach; the bride travelling in a spray aqua knitted suit with pink and navy accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. Mr. and Mrs. Nicol will take up residence in this city on their return to the Okanagan.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Frank Frezle and son, James, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Welock and Miss Marie Ishikawa, all of Vancouver; Albert Bishop and Carroll Dumont, both of Chehalis; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sharpe, Grand Forks; Mr. and Mrs. Tolhurst, J., and Mr. Tolhurst, Sr., all of Westbank, and Cam Collins, Kelowna.

Grace Jeanann Spence, Ian McGifford To Wed

Dr. E. P. Sutherland, of Rossland, will officiate at the ceremony to be held in the Gospel Chapel, Ellis street, at 7 p.m. on October 8.

Miss Spence has chosen for her bridesmaids the Misses Mary and Margaret McGifford, twin sisters of the groom-elect, and Miss Margaret Campbell. Senior Hospital Auxiliary To Sponsor Third Annual Chrysanthemum Tea Saturday

Golden bronze, softly shaded yellows, rich rose, pale pink and gorgeous white chrysanthemums will be used in profusion to decorate the social room of the Masonic Hall for the third annual "Chrysanthemum Tea" to be held on Saturday afternoon under the sponsorship of the Penticton Ladies' Senior Hospital Auxiliary. The lovely autumn blooms will be for sale during the tea hours from 3 to 5:30 p.m.

Plans for the forthcoming affair were finalized at the recent meeting of the senior auxiliary held under the chairmanship of the president, Mrs. Hugh P. Barr, who will receive the guests attending the tea. The auxiliary executive is in charge of the general arrangements and members convening various committees are Mrs. Archie Fead, kitchen details; Mrs. Wallace Mutch, refreshments; Mrs. R. G. Gregory, table arrangements and serviteurs; and Mrs. Barbara Jackson, the chrysanthemums. A silver collection will be made at the tea and Mrs. Barr has donated flower bulbs for a door prize.

Other business discussed at the meeting of the Ladies' Senior Hospital Auxiliary held in the Red Cross rooms centred around plans for serving of tea at the Okanagan regional meeting of hospital boards held on Monday in the Anglican Church Parish Hall.

Miss Mary Ellen Walker, director of nurses at the Penticton Hospital, who is currently on leave of absence from her duties here to take a course in hospital administration at UBC, was the recipient of a corsage and gift from the senior organization. Among the guests present to honor Miss Walker were the women of the hospital board, Mrs. C. W. Lintott, Mrs. O. M. MacInnis, Mrs. Anna Mason, PHN, and Mrs. J. A. Rodell and Mrs. Layton Travis, auxiliary members.

A very interesting and colorful highlight of the meeting was the pleasing talk given by Mrs. Lintott on her recent visit in England where she attended the Coronation of Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II. Concluding her address, which she illustrated by the use of many pictures from various publications, the speaker remarked "Every minute and every effort put into the trip to Britain was most satisfactory and worthwhile."

Originality Stressed In Attractions Planned For Hospital Auxiliary Dance

Original entertainment, novelties and many other features are being planned for the fall cabaret dance sponsored annually by the Junior Auxiliary to the Penticton Hospital. Once again this originality is reflected in the theme "Arabian Nights" chosen for the popular social event to be held on October 23 in the Inola Hotel under the general convenship of Mrs. O. M. MacInnis.

The sponsoring auxiliary meeting recently in the Red Cross Centre under the chairmanship of the president, Mrs. A. Earl Wells, finalized many of its plans for the forthcoming affair. Reports were submitted on the progress of the various features of the dance.

The entertainment, convened by Mrs. John J. Gibson, will be in keeping with the Arabian night theme; a floor show with alluring dancing girls in exotic oriental costumes has for its setting a market square in Arabia. Glamor and beauty will predominate in the presentation as well as in the colorful costumes which are being styled and designed under the supervision of Mrs. T. W. Bryant.

Mrs. Cecil Brett is devoting her artistic abilities to the decorations for the ball room and the scenes for the entertainment. Attractive novelties are being made by a committee headed by Mrs. T. I. Sell and refreshments will be served under the direction of Mrs. H. B. McGregor.

A raffle is always one of the popular attractions at the dance and realizes monies which are used for the charitable projects and other undertakings of the Junior Auxiliary to the Hospital. Mrs. Alex Young is in charge of selling the tickets for the prizes donated, a silver tea service by W. R. Crantley and Son Ltd., an electric mantle clock from Reid Coates Ltd., and a ten-dollar gift certificate from Gray's Apparel. Mrs. T. F. Hohenadel is convening the dance ticket distribution and sale. The advertising for "Arabian Nights" is under the supervision of Mrs. R. F. Ralke. A date change has been made for the next meeting of the Junior Hospital Auxiliary. The scheduled meeting of October 20, will not be held owing to dance taking place that same week, but a special session has been arranged for Wednesday, October 14, in the Red Cross Centre.

Mrs. Dan Ehman has returned home after spending the past three weeks visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Pelicano, Jr., of Mountlake, Washington.

SINCE THE OPENING of the new Penticton Hospital last March, Dick Geldrich, blind proprietor of the concession booth at the hospital, has catered to the many sundry wants of patients, hospital staff and visitors. Dick finds a great deal of satisfaction in his new job and as the volume of business grows, he is adding new lines. This is the first hospital in the interior to have a concession stand. It is not operated by the Canadian Institute for the Blind, because the institute believes a minimum of 200 beds is required in a hospital to make such projects successful. "Nevertheless the CNIB has been most helpful and interested," said Mr. Geldrich, "and would assist me should the need arise."

Lions Behind Annual Drive To Aid Blind;
Campaign This Week

The Penticton Lions Club will launch its annual appeal for funds to assist the work of the Canadian Institute for the Blind this Thursday and Friday with the annual collection of books and home preserves. The committee will sell the merchandise at K.P. Hall, 400 Block Main street, on Saturday.

A three-way campaign has been planned by the service club; the CNIB tag day Saturday, an appeal for donations through the business firms and the colorful Lions sale.

Chairman in charge of the sale, Jack "Scotty" Thompson, says he has a fleet of cars ready to pick up donations of books, jams, jellies or preserves. Donations should be phoned to 2235, but as yet the telephone has not been nearly busy enough to satisfy Mr. Thompson.

"We are just asking for one jar of jam, jelly or preserve from the housewife," said Mr. Thompson, "no call is too small to make."

Highlight of the K.P. Hall sale will be a large and attractive display of basketry, manufactured by blind craftsmen.

Realizing the greater need for CNIB funds this year, the Lions club is gearing its project in anticipation of greater public support than ever before.

Although the Canadian Institute for the Blind has made phenomenal progress toward the "emancipation of the sightless" since it was founded in 1918, there is a word of caution from the institute's national president. "We must avoid the tendency to rest upon the plough," says Lewis M. Wood, "complacent with the field we have furrowed."

J. C. Hembling, field representative for CNIB, who resides here, echoed these words with a brief outline of the progress being made in B.C. Part of their busy schedule is devoted to the preservation of sight through a concentrated campaign in the schools. Periodic talks with school children in all grades has shown a marked improvement in the number of cases of blindness, he said. At the end of March this year there were 75 blind pre-school children in the province receiving attention from the CNIB and although progress is being made, growing populations have increased the burden of financial expense, Mr. Hembling pointed out.

The CNIB is the world over for its marvelous organization and unprecedented success in re-educating the blind to live happy and normal lives. Requests have come from many parts of the world asking for the loan of a CNIB representative to assist setting up a similar institution.

BIRD CITIZENS
Many coast birds, notably most of the sea-fowl do not visit the interior, and conversely, some of the interior species are not found on the coast. It should be noted also that some species of birds common in the Fraser Valley or in the environs of Vancouver are not found on Vancouver Island, one of the curious features of bird-distribution in British Columbia not clearly understood.

The banana plant, now chiefly grown in the tropics and West Indies, is believed to have originally come from Asia.

GRID SQUAD TRAINING HARD;
MEET KAMLOOPS IN OCTOBER

Penticton's gridiron club, the Marauders, have intensified training during the last few practice sessions as the football season looms on the horizon.

Won't Pick Apples
In Oakalla Instead

Two Ontario men who came here ostensibly to pick apples will have to wait for another season. Instead, they are doing 30 days at Oakalla prison farm. They were arrested Saturday afternoon on Eckhardt avenue and charged with intoxication.

Apparently not liking the lockup, they bent their bunks and scraped paint off the sides. To make matters worse, the entire cell block had just been repainted.

This brought about a second charge of wilful damage, and the pair chose the 30 day sentence rather than a fine.

J. T. Young
Heads Regional Hospital Group

J. T. Young, chairman of the Penticton hospital board, is new president of the Okanagan and District Regional Council of the B.C. Hospital Association. Mr. Young steps into the post at a time when rising operating costs are a constant cause of worry to hospital officials, as was indicated when the council met in Penticton on Monday afternoon.

J. Moneth of Kelowna, is vice-president and Eugene Macdonald, administrator of Penticton hospital, secretary.

Twelve Okanagan hospitals were represented at the meeting, and among the resolutions passed was one calling for a realistic per diem rate for 1954, which would reflect actual hospital costs. Since the rates were frozen last year, salary increases have considerably upped operating costs.

Another resolution calls for compulsory hospital insurance to cover all people liable under the BCHI.

A further resolution stressed the advisability of having included in the per diem rate, an amount to cover depreciation on buildings and equipment.

The resolutions will be forwarded to the B.C. Hospital Association for consideration at their annual meeting in October.

Howie Callahan has taken over coaching duties from Bernie Hauschka, who is undergoing treatment at the coast for a back injury, and is whipping his material into shape to meet the new Kamloops club early in October.

The Marauder squad will tangle with Kamloops on Sunday, October 11, and again on the Monday following. The players are training in Queen's Park every Tuesday and Thursday evening but as soon as baseball is finished they will be in King's Park.

Once the club gets rolling, the Marauders will be playing every Sunday, said Neil McElroy, and one of the first coast clubs to play here may well be the highly touted Victoria Vampires.

Activity in football here has been anything but brisk up until just recently so possibly the sudden growth of the Kamloops squad is giving everyone along the line a little boost.

Electric Stove And
Wiring For Anglican
Hall In Summerland

SUMMERLAND — Part of the work of St. Stephen's Anglican WA this year has been installation of an electric stove in the rectory and rewiring the rectory.

Canon F. V. Harrison thanked the members for this when they reconvened for fall on Monday evening, September 21.

Mrs. E. P. Weeks, the president, presided at the interesting meeting which included a splendid report by Mrs. N. O. Solly, camp administrator, on Camp Owassa, the Anglican Camp at Wilson's Landing on the west side of the lake. Mrs. Solly said that the camp was growing steadily in numbers and in popularity.

Canon Harrison asked for a leader for the Junior WA as Mrs. Weeks was retiring from work with the juniors, and Mrs. Solly volunteered to take over this important branch.

Mrs. W. F. Evans is convener of decorations committee for the Harvest Festival, October 11.

Refreshments were served by the month's hostesses, Mrs. Bob Barkwill, Mrs. Frank Beavan and Miss Gweneth Atkinson.

Cycle Race Recalls Memory Of Bike Trip From Coast In 1900

The arrival here Sunday of bicycle riders, after the long trip from Vancouver, brought a flash of memory to Mrs. Jack Thynne, Fairford Drive, Penticton, who recalls another difficult bicycle ride over the old Hope-Princeton trail 53 years ago.

It was in 1900 that Mrs. Thynne and her family, who resided on a ranch at Otter Valley, were paid a visit by her brother-in-law, Arthur G. Thynne and six others, after they had made the trip over the old Dewdney trail. While the others rode horseback, the intrepid Mr. Thynne, who was an active sportsman, decided to travel by bicycle. Mrs. Thynne, who is an active 83 years of age, recalls that the party camped two or three times along the 60 mile trail from Hope to Princeton. Also recalling that trip is George Batstone, Mrs. Thynne's son-in-law, who also resides at Fairford Drive. It was Mr. Batstone who met the party in Princeton with a team and democat and took them to Otter Valley for the family reunion.

Mrs. Thynne has some knowledge of difficult trips. In the pioneering days, she rode side saddle 45 miles from Nicola to Otter Valley, while she carried her two-year-old daughter with her. The daughter is now Mrs. George Broderick, Fairford Drive.

CITY JAYCEES LOOKING FORWARD TO BANNER CONVENTION YEAR

Looking forward to a banner year, during which they will be hosts to a provincial convention, Penticton Junior Chamber of Commerce members installed their new officers at a dinner meeting on board SS Sicamous on Thursday night.

In the annual report presented by retiring president Ivor Haddleton, it was shown that the term just ended was a year of achievement, not only in the accomplishments of the chamber, but also setting a new level of prestige for the organization in Penticton.

Mr. Haddleton cited a few of the projects that had been carried out during his term, mentioning these as typical of "Jaycee" work. But superimposed on these, he said was their own personal achievement in themselves, collectively and individually.

Taking over the gavel for the new term is Eric Larsen, who last year demonstrated his ability.

ORIGINAL FLAG PRESENTED TO B.C. DRAGOONS

VERNON — At an impressive ceremony here last Wednesday, the original Union Jack used by the British Columbia Dragoons in Europe was presented to the regiment by a former padre, Major H. A. Merklinger, and dedicated by him to the memory of those who gave their lives in the last war.

All Vernon personnel, and a party of original members from Kelowna, were present when the flag was presented to Lt. Col. G. D. Johnson, commanding officer of the BCD's.

Following prayers for those who gave their lives, the Last Post was sounded and this was followed by two minutes silence.

In his presentation of the flag, Major Merklinger said in part, "On the regimental crest, which members of this unit so proudly wear, are the Indian words 'Quanssem Ilep' which, as you well know, means 'Always Willing'. Tonight we are gathered here to pay tribute to those members of the British Columbia
